PRESENTING COMPLAINT: Elbow screening

HISTORY: Elbow screening images. No apparent issues.

ELBOWS March 13, 2019: 3 flexed images are provided for review.

FINDINGS: There is very mild smooth osteophyte formation along the right anconeal process. There are no other abnormalities seen of the right elbow. There are no abnormalities of the left elbow. There are no other significant findings on this study.

CONCLUSIONS: Minimal right elbow osteoarthritis. This could be due to primary degenerative changes given the absence of any clinical signs or other overt abnormalities of the elbow joint. Normal left elbow radiographs.

RECOMMENDATIONS: If additional evaluation of the elbow is desired, follow-up radiographs of the elbow in 3-6 months (or sooner if clinically indicated) , or a CT of the elbow (for more immediate assessment) could be considered.
